Hi Abigail – Upon further investigation, I'm wondering if you've selected all the appropriate dropdown menus on the bottom row. Here's what it should look like:

I have opened the Birthing Outcome page and selected a client. It won't allow me to type in any information. I just get the little red circle with the slash in it. Am I doing it wrong?

Yes, if a client had an existing birthing outcome, you will need to re-enter the birthing outcome and EPDS form in the new system.

It's me again! Today I have gotten error code 404 several times stating the page didn't exist and I had to try to login 2-3 times.
But this is my question; when I enter an existing client into the new system do I also need to enter her birthing outcome again?
Thanks,
